CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES, ABOUT THE CONFERENCE, WHO SHOULD ATTEND AND CERTIFICATION

PRESENTED BY, CONFERENCE SUPPORT AND DIRECTIONS TO CONFERENCE

FINGER LAKES GERIATRIC EDUCATION CENTER OF UPSTATE NEW YORK (FLGEC-UNY)

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this program, participants will be able to:

- Describe the most common causes of sleep disturbances among older people as well as be able to describe the management of sleep problems in older people; including behavioral and pharmacological management of insomnia.
- Describe the prevalence and mortality rates, the physical findings, and the screening tools for elder mistreatment. Participants will also be able to list two social and two medical intervention approaches for elder mistreatment.
- Identify the demographics and epidemiology, assessment strategies, and interaction strategies pertaining to older driver safety.
- Describe the effects of aging on wound healing and understand how tissue ischemia affects wound healing.
- List and describe three practical applications of marriage and family therapy in the long term care setting.
- Describe the epidemiology of cancer and aging with a focus on long term care as well as to be able to understand the current research areas in geriatric oncology.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE...

This conference will provide geriatric health professionals throughout the continuum of care with clinical and practical topics relevant to health practice with older adults. These topics were selected because they represent areas of need as identified by participants and faculty who provide health care to older adults. Some topics represent increasing clinical concerns in the geriatric population. Other topics represent areas that have important policy, cost and legal implications for health care providers and ultimately affect the way services are provided to older patients.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This conference is for health care providers from all disciplines. These include physicians, physician assistants, medical directors, social workers, nurses, nurse practitioners, occupational therapists, physical therapists, nursing home administrators, dental professionals, audiologists, chiropractors, podiatrists, recreational therapists, health care students, faculty and any other professionals interested in the field of aging.

CONTINUING EDUCATION ACCREDITATION / CERTIFICATION

The University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry designates this educational activity for a maximum of 5.25 credits AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This continuing nursing education activity has been approved by the New York State Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

This nursing activity has been assigned approval code 7FKPW6-08, and 5.13 contact hours will be granted upon completion of this conference. No credit is given for partial attendance.
