

Question: Will the Flu Vaccine prevent Swine Flu?

Answer: Vaccines are available almost every year for the influenza flu, but not for the Swine Flu since it is so new (mutated virus). We currently do not have a vaccine that is effective for this virus. However, there are some antiviral medication which if given early can reduce the severity of the illness (see more below).