

Question: If I get H1N1 vaccine, it will protect me from all flu?

Answer: No. H1N1 vaccine will not protect you from “seasonal Flu” or “regular flu” which is a different flu virus from flu caused by H1N1 virus. Seasonal flu occurs every year, but the H1N1 flu is a new flu. That is why it is recommended you get vaccines, one for seasonal flu and one for H1N1 flu.
