

Tana Grady-Weliky Lecture on Women and Diversity in Medicine

The University of Rochester Medical Center is mourning the loss of Tana A. Grady Weliky, M.D., former Senior Associate Dean, who died January 18 of complications related to cancer. To honor Dr. Grady-Weliky's dedication to medical education, her commitment to women and diversity in medicine, and her striving for excellence in all her endeavors, the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry wishes to establish an annual lecture in her honor. The Annual Tana Grady-Weliky Lecture on Women and Diversity in Medicine will be coordinated by the Office of Diversity in conjunction with the Office of Medical Education and the Department of Psychiatry.

Individuals wishing to contribute to this memorial to advance women and diversity in medicine in Dr. Grady-Weliky's honor can send contributions to:
