Our March Newsletter is dedicated to OB/GYN Updates

Our newsletter format will feature important industry news, periFACTS® programs and books, and a sneak peek into what's new this month for our monthly subscribers!

In The News

Anemia, sickle cell diseases tied to maternal risks

Odds of several adverse pregnancy outcomes appeared strikingly similar between pregnant people with anemia and pregnant people with sickle cell disease, according to a study published in JAMA Network Open.

Healio (2/2023)

Why pregnancy forums are rife with health misinformation

Flu vaccines are effective for pregnant women, but many online pregnancy forums contain misinformation about the vaccine, which causes hesitancy to get it. Such forums are rarely monitored or fact-checked.

Salon (2/2023)

Complications during pregnancy linked to a higher risk of heart disease, study finds

A large study published in The BMJ found that five complications of pregnancy are major risk factors for ischemic heart disease -- preeclampsia, gestational diabetes, other high blood pressure conditions, early delivery before 37 weeks, and low birth weight -- and that identifying them early can help clinicians assess patients' risk and provide interventions to prevent disease.

CNN Health (2/2023)

Offspring of mothers with primary immunodeficiencies at an increased risk of psychiatric disorders

A new analysis shows offspring of mothers with primary immunodeficiencies are at an increased risk of several psychiatric disorders, including anxiety and depression, as well as suicidal behavior.
