

PAUL M. SCHYVE, MD CENTER FOR BIOETHICS LECTURE (Part of the DIVERSITY SEMINAR SERIES)

Wednesday, April 11, 2018 / 12:00–1:00PM
Class of '62 Auditorium (1-9425)

Ethics, Public Policy, and Pharmaceutical Pricing

Presented by:

Paul T. Menzel, PhD

Professor of Philosophy Emeritus and
Humanities Faculty Fellow
Pacific Lutheran University, Seattle, Washington

In conceiving of an ethically justified price for a lifesaving or disability preventing drug, three considerations compete for dominance: the relative value of health benefit, recouping legitimate costs, and what the market will bear. Dr. Menzel will discuss the challenges inherent in this complicated process.

All faculty, fellows, residents, students and staff are welcome!
