Tenure-Track/Tenured Faculty Position
School of Medicine & Dentistry at the University of Rochester

The Center for Oral Biology in the Eastman Institute for Oral Health invites applications for a faculty position at the early or mid-career level. Successful applicants should have a PhD, MD, DDS, or combined degrees, and demonstrated ability to conduct an innovative research program to investigate an area of science relevant to human disease/oral biology; including: tooth and craniofacial development; salivary gland biology; or orofacial pain. Preference will be given to applications that complement ongoing programs or bring novel expertise and research perspectives. Individuals seeking an appointment must have demonstrated the ability to conduct independent research. The Center of Oral Biology is located in the state-of-the-art Arthur Kornberg Medical Research Building at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry. Faculty members in the Center carry joint appointments in appropriate academic departments and participate in graduate student training in several graduate programs at the University of Rochester. More information about the Center and available positions can be found on the internet (<http://www.urmc.rochester.edu/center-oral-biology/>). For further details and to apply online, please go to: <http://www.rochester.edu/working/hr/jobs/> (Job ID #203687). Please provide your curriculum vitae, statement of current and future research interests, and names and addresses of at least three references. The University of Rochester is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.
