We want to hear from you!

The University of Rochester is conducting a research study, "Mind the Gap," to help families access autism services after diagnosis. We will connect families to a parent who has already been through this process.

What will happen?

- You will be matched with a peer coach, who is another parent of a child with a disability
- You will meet with the peer coach to identify goals and review resources
- You can talk to your coach about topics like challenging behaviors, insurance, self-care, and others
- The program is free and you will be paid for filling out forms
