Today's Resource Tip:

ResearchMatch.org is a University-sponsored, free recruitment tool that is available to all UR researchers. It is simple to register, add an IRB-approved study, search the database to be matched to potential volunteers, and send your study information. Free training is available.

For more support: Contact ResearchHelp@urmc.rochester.edu or visit the University of Rochester's ResearchMatch website (<https://www.urmc.rochester.edu/research-subject-recruitment/recruitment-tools/research-match.aspx>)

Academic Research Track Trainee Presentations

The CTSI Seminar Series continues with podium presentations by students in the CTSI-sponsored Academic Research Track, which provides medical students with a "year-out" from the medical curriculum to gain hands-on research experience. This year's presentations:

Chase Kwon
Mentor: Lisa Beck
Project Title: A Systems Biology Approach to Identify Determinants of Staphylococcus Aureus Colonization in Atopic Dermatitis

Jinno (Tony) Magno
Mentor: Jessica Shand
Project Title: Increased Sensitivity of Poor-Prognosis Human MLL-Rearranged Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia to Proteasome Inhibition (Bortezomib) in Vitro

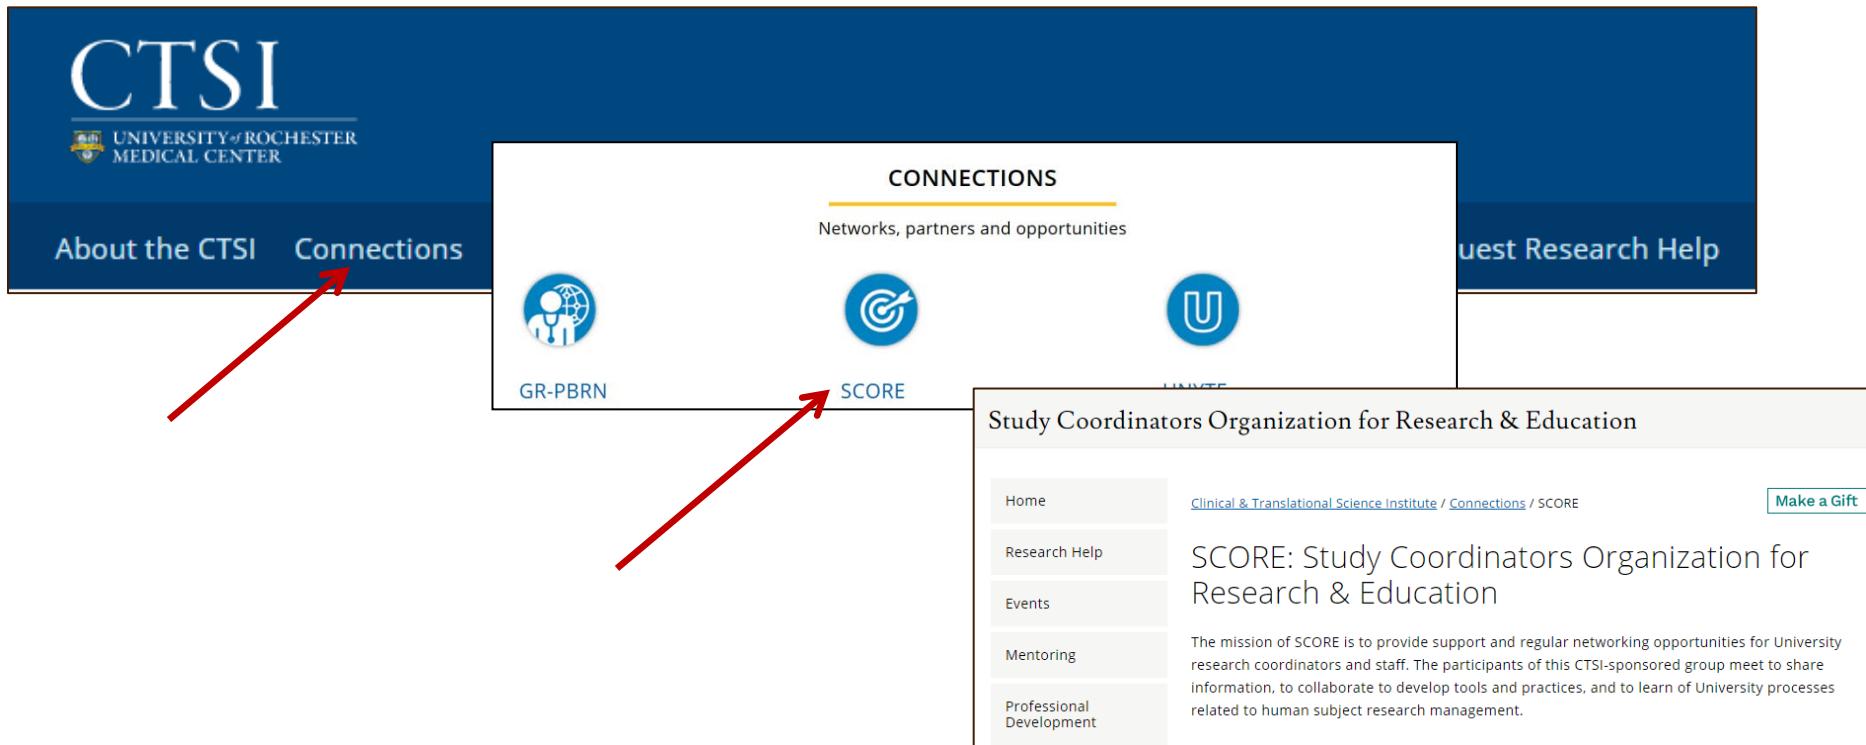

Sam Weisenthal
Mentor: Martin Zand
Project Title: Predicting Acute Kidney Injury in Re-Hospitalized Patients

The Clinical and Translational Science Institute's Weekly Update is your source for:

- events
- collaboration opportunities
- career development opportunities
- funding opportunities in clinical and translational science

Look for it every Monday.

SCORE Website is linked on the OHSP home web page under Additional Resources under the list of U of R websites or travel from CTSI website.

The image shows a screenshot of the CTSI (Clinical & Translational Science Institute) website. The top navigation bar includes links for "About the CTSI", "Connections", and "Guest Research Help". A red arrow points from the "Connections" link to a sub-navigation menu titled "CONNECTIONS" which lists "GR-PBRN", "SCORE", and "UNIVET". Another red arrow points from the "SCORE" link in the "CONNECTIONS" menu to a detailed page for the SCORE organization. This page features a header "Study Coordinators Organization for Research & Education", a navigation menu with links for "Home", "Research Help", "Events", "Mentoring", and "Professional Development", and a main content area describing the mission of SCORE.

SCORE: Study Coordinators Organization for Research & Education

The mission of SCORE is to provide support and regular networking opportunities for University research coordinators and staff. The participants of this CTSI-sponsored group meet to share information, to collaborate to develop tools and practices, and to learn of University processes related to human subject research management.

Feedback – March's Meeting

Developing Budgets for Research Projects Session Focus: Clinical Trials

What I liked best:

“They [speakers] provided a good platform for those who may not have much budget preparing experience. Glad the materials will be available on the SCORE website for reference.”

“The slides with all of the embedded resources are really the jewel of the presentation... a great takeaway.”

“The 3 P’s are very helpful, good to keep in mind.”
