Q & A with 2014 CTSI Faculty Pilot Awardee

In the most recent CTSI Stories Blog, Carla Beckham, M.D., Ph.D., assistant professor of Urology at URM, who worked with Edward Messing, M.D., professor of Urology at URM, on a 2014 CTSI Faculty Pilot project, shares information about treatment for bladder cancer, the fifth most common cancer and the most expensive to treat over a patient's lifetime. She discusses how the Pilot Award gave her career a huge launch into the field of exosome research, an exciting new direction for this particular cancer. To read the full CTSI Stories Blog and learn more about the Pilot Studies Program, click here.

SCORE Website is linked on the OHSP home web page under Additional Resources under the list of U of R websites or travel from CTSI website.

The screenshot shows the CTSI (Clinical & Translational Science Institute) website. The header includes the CTSI logo and the text 'UNIVERSITY of ROCHESTER MEDICAL CENTER'. The main navigation bar has 'About the CTSI' and 'Connections'. A red arrow points to 'Connections'. Below this, a 'CONNECTIONS' section is displayed with the subtitle 'Networks, partners and opportunities'. It features three icons: 'GR-PBRN', 'SCORE', and 'U of R'. A second red arrow points to the 'SCORE' icon. To the right, there is a 'Request Research Help' link. Below the 'CONNECTIONS' section, a pop-up window titled 'Study Coordinators Organization for Research & Education' is shown. This window contains a sidebar with links: 'Home', 'Research Help', 'Events', 'Mentoring', and 'Professional Development'. The main content area of the pop-up displays the title 'SCORE: Study Coordinators Organization for Research & Education' and a paragraph describing its mission: 'The mission of SCORE is to provide support and regular networking opportunities for University research coordinators and staff. The participants of this CTSI-sponsored group meet to share information, to collaborate to develop tools and practices, and to learn of University processes related to human subject research management.' A 'Make a Gift' button is visible in the top right corner of the pop-up.

Feedback – April's Meeting

Research Coordinator Development Initiative (RCDI): Continuous Improvement of Coordinator Support and Learning

What I liked best:

“Good overview of LEAN process. Made me think about doing additional training in it.”

“Relevant topics for study coordinators; good Q&A period.”
