

Art Contest

For students K-12, hosted by the Office of Health Equity Research

CASH PRIZES for winners and their schools!

Submit by November 25, 2022

‘Health Equity’ means that everyone, no matter what race they are, how much money they have, or where they live, can have the best health possible. The new Office of Health Equity Research at the University of Rochester is studying what it will take to make that a reality, and we want to hear from you!

Contest Rules

- Submit artwork that shows what health equity looks like to you in your community.
- 3 separate categories - Elementary, Middle School and High School.
- Paintings, drawings, photographs, etc. accepted!
- Submit online - the deadline is November 25, 2022.

Award ceremony in December!

Even if you don't have artwork to submit, you can sign up for paid opportunities to meet with us about the kinds of research we should be doing.

Zoom sessions will be offered to answer questions about submissions.

Contact Info

Dr. Edith Williams

Edith\_Williams@URMC.Rochester.edu