

Jerome Morrison, RN

Trauma Outreach and Education Coordinator
Upstate University Hospital

Jerome is the Trauma Outreach and Education Coordinator at Upstate University Hospital's Level 1 Trauma Center. He is a Registered Nurse and retired Firefighter/paramedic. Previous work experiences include Director of Southern Tier Paramedic Program, SUNY Adjunct Faculty and Director of Emergency Services at Cortland Regional Medical Center.

Jerry received his Associate's Degree in Nursing in 1984 from Tompkins Cortland Community College. He is active in formal trauma education as Course Director (ATCN), Course Coordinator (ATLS, ATOM, RTTDC) and Instructor (TNCC, PHLTS candidate).

He is the President Elect of the NYS Division of the American Trauma Society and serves on the Education Committee of the Trauma Center Association of America.