

Jerome Morrison, RN
Trauma Outreach and Education Coordinator
Upstate University Hospital

Jerome Morrison is the Trauma Outreach and Education Coordinator at Upstate University Hospital, an ACS Verified Level I Trauma Center. Jerry has been a Registered Nurse for more than 30 years with the majority of his time spent working in the Emergency Department both as clinical staff and as a department director. He is a retired firefighter and paramedic.

He was a founder of the Southern Tier Paramedic Program and taught as adjunct faculty in State University of New York system.

Jerry received his Associate's Degree in Nursing in 1984 from Tompkins Cortland Community College. He is currently an ATCN Course Director, ATLS Course Coordinator, ATOM Course Coordinator and TNCC Instructor. He is the president of the NYS Division of the American Trauma Society, a member of the Society of Trauma Nurses and serves on the Education Committee of the Trauma Center Association of America.