

Jessica Summers, M.D., F.A.C.S.
Assistant Professor of Surgery
Burn Medical Director
General Surgery/Trauma/Critical Care/Burns

Dr. Summers received her medical degree from Drexel University College of Medicine. She did her general surgery internship and residency at Case Western Reserve University Hospitals followed by a surgical critical care fellowship in 2011 at the MetroHealth Hospital, Case Western Reserve University. At the completion of her fellowship, she worked at UPMC Mercy Hospital & UPMC Presbyterian Hospital. In 2015, she accepted a position at University of Nebraska Medical Center/Nebraska Medicine, where she eventually became the Medical Director of their Burn Unit. Dr. Summers joined the trauma team here at SUNY UMU in October 2018 as Director of the Clark Burn Center and part of the Trauma/Acute/Critical Care & Burns Surgery.