

Stephen Brucato, BS, EMT-P
Capital Region District Chief
New York State Department of Health
Bureau of Emergency Medical Services
Emergency Preparedness and Response Section

Steve began his EMS career with the Bellmore-Merrick Volunteer Ambulance Corps. on Long Island in 1997. He attended the Stony Brook University Paramedic Program in 2001 and spent 10 years working in the New York City 9-1-1 System before moving to the Capital Region. From 2015- 2021 he served as the Chief of Operations for Greene County Paramedics, a rural countywide ALS first response agency, and received the 2021 Harriet C. Weber Leadership Award from the Hudson-Mohawk REMSCO. Steve currently works as a District Chief for the Emergency Preparedness and Response Section within the New York State Bureau of EMS and Trauma Systems.