

Vincent Fargione
Logistics Manager
NYSDOH Office of Emergency Preparedness

Vince Fargione has been in the public health and emergency management community for around 20 years and currently serves as the Logistics Manager for the Office of Health Emergency Preparedness (OHEP) at New York State Department of Health (NYSDOH). He began at OHEP in 2017 and has been a part of the Department's following response efforts: Hurricane Maria EMAC Deployment, Schoharie Limo Incident, Measles, and COVID-19.

Prior to NYSDOH, Vince served for 11+ years at the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Services New York State Office of Emergency Management (DHSES NYSOEM) filling several roles throughout his career.