

UR*Wilmot Cancer Institute
University of Rochester*Division of Hematology & Oncology Faculty
Positions in Breast, GU, Gynecologic,
Melanoma & Sarcoma Units

The Hematology-Oncology Division at the University of Rochester is seeking M.D./Ph.D. or M.D. Assistant, Associate or Full Professor applicants with experience in clinical research for faculty position in solid tumor oncology program. Our multidisciplinary programs include surgical, oncologic, radiation, imaging and pathology sub-specialists. The predominant criterion for appointment is a commitment to clinical excellence, research, and teaching. Mentoring fellows, residents and medical students and possessing creativity and strong interpersonal skills in order to work with a collaborative and diverse faculty will be essential. Competitive salary, generous benefits, & research support are provided.

The Wilmot Cancer Institute is the major resource for comprehensive cancer care, research, education, and community outreach in upstate New York. Our facility provides fully integrated inpatient and outpatient clinical, clinical research and laboratory space for Cancer Medicine, a key component of the Medical Center Strategic Plan.

Please contact: Aram F. Hezel, M.D.
Hematology-Oncology Division Chief
Email: aram\_hezel@urmc.rochester.edu

The University of Rochester is an Equal Opportunity Employer