Meghan, Donna, and Janna

Meghan Fox, PsyD, LMHC is a postdoctoral fellow at the University of Rochester Medical Center Department of Psychiatry and the NCDHR. Her research is focused on suicide prevention with deaf and hard of hearing (D/HH) people. She completed her pre-doctoral internship in the URMC Department of Psychiatry's Deaf Wellness Center track. Meghan is a proud Sibling of a Deaf Adult (SODA) and has provided clinical services and developed community-based programs with D/HH individuals and their families since 2009.

Donna Guardino is a Research Coordinator with the NCDHR. She will graduate with a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Gallaudet University in May 2018. She grew up in Northern NJ and spent the last 10 years living in D.C. before moving to Rochester. Donna completed her pre-doctoral internship at Deaf Wellness Center (DWC). She currently works part-time at the NCDHR as a counselor for the Deaf Weight Wise (DWW) program and will be an on-call counselor with the upcoming Deaf² HIV project.

Janna Luksha is a Research Coordinator with NCDHR. She graduated from Rochester Institute of Technology in May 2012. She was born in Cape Cod, Massachusetts. She grew up in Portland area, Maine and moved to Rochester in 2007 to attend RIT. She decided to stay in Rochester after graduating because she enjoys the deaf community and opportunity in Rochester. She currently works part-time as a counselor for our Deaf Weight Wise 2.0 (DWW 2.0) research project.
