Can we have a healthier work environment?

We think we can.
Your partner in corporate health
At Strong Health Occupational and Environmental Medicine, we help more than 2,000 companies in Upstate New York keep their employees and their businesses healthy. Our partnerships with employers improve the health and well being of their employees, while reducing injury and illness-related costs and liability.

We offer preventive care to help your workforce stay healthy; surveillance and monitoring programs to help maintain safe working conditions; and illness and injury care to help workers recover and return to work.

Our solutions are designed to meet the unique needs of your company. From developing policies and programs for environmental and regulatory concerns specific to your industry, to offering on-site wellness programs, we are committed to making your workplace safe and healthy.

The bottom line on employee health
The greatest assets of any company are the people who work there. Maintaining a healthy, productive workforce is critical to success in today’s competitive environment.

The challenges facing employers are many. Each year millions of Americans sustain work-related illnesses and injuries, resulting in significant loss — both to themselves and the companies who employ them. Recent studies suggest that work-related injury and illness cost American companies more than one billion dollars per year. Helping workers recover and return to work — while maintaining the safest possible working environment — are critical concerns.

And occupational health is about more than illness and injury care. At Strong Health, we partner with you to maintain a safe workplace that meets regulations and protects your employees. We also enable you to provide value — added benefits such as on-site health programs and health screenings to help recruit and retain talented employees.
We’ll partner with you.
Why choose us?
There are many reasons for your company to select Strong Health Occupational and Environmental Medicine but what stand above the rest are Strong Health’s extensive occupational and environmental medicine expertise and commitment to service in all aspects of our relationship.

Experience and expertise — the Medical Center connection
As part of the University of Rochester Medical Center, we offer outstanding clinical experience and expertise in every aspect of prevention, diagnosis, treatment and management of work-related injuries and illnesses. Whether the need is for a specialist in burns, inhalation injuries, back injuries or rehabilitation; or an environmental health and safety expert to assess a work-site hazard, we can provide the right professional quickly and efficiently.

A unique resource for environmental assessment
Our environmental expertise is unique as we bring the knowledge of the University of Rochester School of Medicine’s world-renowned environmental toxicologists to your workplace setting. Epidemiologists, biostatisticians, industrial hygienists, and regulatory specialists are also available to serve on your team.

Customer service
Timely appointments, prompt reports, and dedicated professionals reflect our high standards of customer service and responsiveness. Our “one-stop” availability of services provide you cost-effective and easy access to occupational and environmental medicine professionals and our coordination of care ensures that your employees will receive treatment in a timely, efficient manner.

Timely communication
We are committed to working with you as a member of your team. Frequent and timely communication will ensure that we understand your needs and we will strive to meet or exceed your expectations. Based on knowledge of the demands of your workplace and concern for your employees, we tailor services to your requirements.

Convenient location and free parking
Our convenient location near the main lobby of Strong Memorial Hospital gives your employees easy access to our specialists. Occupational and Environmental Medicine pays for parking.
We offer preventive care to help your workforce stay healthy.
