RESERVE THE DATE!

Annual Health Professions’ Faculty Development Colloquium

Wednesday, June 1, 2016
7:30 AM – 4:00 PM

Preliminary Program

Keynote Speaker

Geoff R. Norman, PhD
Professor Emeritus
Department of Clinical Epidemiology and Biostatistics
Program for Educational Research and Development
McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario

The things we know, the things we think we know but don’t, and the things we don’t know but should.

This annual Colloquium is a highly interactive program that brings together faculty, educators, and healthcare professionals to share strategies and best practices for enhancing health professions education. Thought-provoking plenary sessions, workshops, and short communications covering a variety of topics will help renew and support Colloquium participants in their professional roles. Poster presentations will foster networking and the interchange of ideas.

Faculty, Students, Residents, Fellows, and Staff are all invited to attend this event!
More information about the colloquium and registration will be available soon.

Please contact the Office for Faculty Development at 276-3782 or via email at faculty_development@urmc.rochester.edu with any questions.