Upcoming educational opportunity on human research protections
Please share this information with your faculty, students, and administrators that conduct research involving human subjects or work with the Institutional Review Board.

The Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP) Research Community Forum Co-hosted with University Hospitals Case Medical Center and Case Western Reserve University, Ohio

“Innovations in Research: Collaborations & Transformations”
On Wednesday, September 16, 2015
At the Global Center for Health Innovations in Cleveland, Ohio

This conference will cover a variety of topics including informed consent and the teach back method, managing multicenter trials, and the use of single IRB, as well as the handling of conflict of interest issues and others. Additionally, representatives of OHRP will be onsite to answer questions, explain the HHS regulatory requirements, and provide news and policy updates.

Access the full AGENDA and REGISTER at the Forum website at http://conta.cc/1C6bkBb

The event qualifies for numerous educational credits.

Contacts:

Conference Organizer, Carrie O’Neill at Carrie.Oneill@UHhospitals.org

The Office for Human Research Protections, OHRP-EDU@hhs.gov