81 ... Alumni List
August, 2005

I wish to especially thank Ms. Yi Xie Kiley, and also Mr. Keith Bullis, Ms. Karen Judy, and Dr. Guido Batalocco for their creative input and coordination of the 2005 edition of the yearbook for the AEGD program at Eastman Dental Center. Numerous staff, faculty, and residents have contributed photographs and stories making this edition both interesting and fun. Our objective has been to provide an academic and social view of our program.

Hopefully, the alumni list is accurate, as it has been updated. We appreciate your feedback with this ongoing project.

I hope that you will enjoy this new edition of our yearbook and that it will help you to remember your time at U of R EDC in Rochester.

Sincerely,

Dr. Hans Malmström
Director, Advanced Education in General Dentistry

Welcome New Dentistry Alumni,

You will soon join a worldwide network of alumni who carry on the Eastman legacy of caring for the underserved whether their career involves private practice, teaching, or research.

We try and instill in our residents and international students the urge to strive for personal excellence. At the same time, we hope each of you will maintain a personal sense of responsibility as you move ahead in your career to care for those who are most in need. The young are particularly vulnerable and need your support whether you choose private practice, a classroom, or a laboratory.

When George Eastman founded our organization, he did so with the expressed wish that we remember our community’s underserved. I hope you’ll remember those wishes. I also hope you will remember the faculty and staff who worked with you and will share your achievements with us. It’s especially rewarding when one of our graduates shares news about an award, a special event, a marriage or an addition to the family.

I wish you good luck in your career and welcome you to the Dentistry Family.

Sincerely,

Cyril Meyerowitz, DDS, MS, ’75 Genden
A Word From the Medical Director

I would like to again extend my congratulations to all of the graduates of the Advanced Education in General Dentistry Program. For most of you, this has likely been an exciting and challenging first chapter in your post graduate dental education. For others it has been a continuing expansion of the concepts and knowledge that you have gained elsewhere. Regardless of your background upon arrival, I’m sure you have increased your knowledge and experience exponentially.

That’s what a good investment is supposed to do. I use the word investment here intentionally, because that is what you have done. You have invested your time and efforts for the past 1 to 3 years in your dental education. And what dividends it has paid! You are leaving our institution with the knowledge that you have completed one of the premier Advanced Education in General Programs in the country.

No matter where your future travels take you, what will assist you mostly is not so much the specific dental skills and knowledge that you have learned. That is important and will separate you from others who haven’t received that training. But more importantly, you will have learned how to learn. That will keep you on the ‘cutting edge’ of dentistry regardless of where you go or what you do.

I wish you all the best of luck and hope you will remember your time here fondly. I encourage all of you to keep in touch with the many friends you have undoubtedly made here. You are making the transition from a valued resident to a valued alumnus. I congratulate you all.

Sincerely,

Todd Thierer, DDS, MPH

Life in Rochester

The Rochester area is known for its high quality of life and it’s relatively low cost of living. Metropolitan Rochester has a population of just less than one million. It’s economy is primarily based on high technology industries such as Eastman Kodak Company, Xerox Corporation, and Bausch & Lomb. Hence, the urban physical environment is relatively clean. There is substantial community involvement in the quality of cultural life and public institutions such as schools and community organizations because the work force contains a high proportion of skilled professional, scientific, and technical personnel.

Cultural opportunities include the University’s Memorial Art Gallery, which has a fine permanent collection in addition to important traveling exhibits; the George Eastman House, the International Museum of Photography and Film, which has the best film library in the world; Geva Theater, which presents professional plays in it’s landmark building; the Rochester Museum and Science Center with the Strasenburgh Planetarium, which boasts the most projectors and largest production staff of any planetarium in the world; and the Strong Museum, which offers a variety of exciting events and exhibits for children and adults. These are just a few of the many exciting cultural and entertainment activities available in the greater Rochester region. Rochester offers a wide array of restaurants offering vegetarian, Japanese, Mexican, Vietnamese, Chinese, Indian, French, Greek, or Italian fare. A number of nightclubs throughout the area feature live music ranging from jazz and rock to folk and big band. Rochester is situated on Lake Ontario and is part of the beautiful Finger Lakes region of New York. There are many opportunities for boating, sailing, and a variety of water sports. The snow belt is less than 30 miles to the south through the Bristol Hills, so there are many fine areas for downhill and cross-country skiing.
Rochester is a four-hour drive from camping and hiking areas in the Adirondack or Catskill mountains. Other accessible major metropolitan areas include Buffalo and Niagara Falls (one hour by car); Toronto (three hours by car); New York City or Philadelphia (six hours by car); and Boston or Washington, D.C. (seven hours by car).

Rochester is especially fortunate in the quantity and quality of music available from the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra and the University of Rochester’s Eastman School of Music. Many music school recitals are free and open to the public.
History of the Eastman Dental Center

By Ruth Dumont

Dentistry for the under-served populations of Rochester was a goal of local dentists as early as 1892 when one of the first free dental dispensaries was established to benefit the worthy poor of the city. Civil War veteran Captain Henry Lomb supported this work; however his newly begun optical company, Bausch and Lomb, was not in a position to give the help that the institution needed. In 1909, he approached the wealthy founder of Eastman Kodak, George Eastman, to solicit Eastman’s support for the foundering dental society. Encouraged by William Bausch, Eastman investigated what was being done in other U.S. cities such as Boston, where the Forsyth Dental Infirmary was then a center for children’s dental care and preventive dentistry.

Eastman was so impressed with the work of Forsyth that he decided to donate the funds to build a dental dispensary in Rochester. Unwilling to take on this enterprise alone, he worked with Bausch to find trustees who would, along with the city, provide significant yearly financial support to the dispensary.

The new dispensary would need proper staffing and so, in 1916, the first licensed school for dental hygienists in New York State opened with local dentist Harvey Burkhart named as the director of the school and the dispensary. The Dental Hygiene School provided well-trained hygienists to the dispensary and the community, while also opening a new career field for women. Hygienists made the rounds to Rochester schools twice a year with portable dental equipment, leaflets on tooth care in English, Italian, Yiddish, and Polish for parents, and lantern slide presentations on oral hygiene for the children. On 15 October 1917, Rochester Dental Dispensary opened charging 5¢ per visit to children through age 16 unable to afford private care.

The summer of 1919 saw the start of the Dispensary Tonsil-Adenoid Clinic when 1470 children had tonsillectomies that summer without a single casualty. It was then believed that poor oral health could cause a variety of health problems including retarded mental and physical growth, tuberculosis, and insanity. The Tonsil-Adenoid Clinic continued until the beginning of World War II. Eastman’s enthusiasm at the Dispensary’s success encouraged him to donate buildings for clinics in London, Stockholm, Paris, Rome, and Brussels. Eastman saw his donation to the Dispensary as one of his wisest philanthropic expenditures, donating about $3 million by the time he died in 1932. In 1941 its name became Eastman Dental Dispensary in honor of its founder.
Dr. Basil G. Bibby became director when Dr. Burkhart died in 1946. Bibby’s interests in fluoridation, cariogenicity of foods, and oral bacteria redirected the Dispensary’s focus. This was reflected in the early 1950’s by the addition of adult specialties of prosthodontics and periodontics to the existing general dentistry, orthodontic, and pediatric dentistry degree programs. Research scientists such as Dr. Michael Buonocore, who, in 1967, developed the process of dental sealants, became part of the Center. Dentists from around the world came for postgraduate study at Eastman. In 1964, the Eastman Dental Dispensary was renamed Eastman Dental Center to emphasize the dental center’s orientation toward research. Dr. William McHugh became the Dental Center’s third director in 1970 and in addition was later named Associate Dean for Dental Affairs at the University of Rochester.

The Center moved to its present site at 625 Elmwood Avenue in 1978 next to the University of Rochester’s Strong Memorial Hospital. In 1997, while Dr. Ronald Billings was the fourth director, Eastman Dental Center merged with the University of Rochester Medical Center - something that George Eastman had envisioned back in 1920. As part of that merger, the Eastman Department of Dentistry was formed to combine the oral health facilities of both the hospital and the dental center. Dr. Cyril Meyerowitz became the fifth director of the Dental Center and the chair of the Department of Dentistry in 1999. Eastman Dental Center has served the Rochester community into the 21st century by providing dental care for children and adults, conducting dental research, and offering postdoctoral clinical specialties to a multi-cultural group of dentists.

Advanced Education in General Dentistry

Until 1968, the one-year intern program at the Eastman Dental Center was essentially a pediatric training program. To meet the accreditation requirements of pediatric dentistry specialty, a two-year program was established. The one year program became the General Dentistry program, and treatment and training in adult care was emphasized. There wasn’t universal support among the faculty for general dentistry education. Dr. Basil Bibby believed strongly in general dentistry education and appointed Stanley L. Handelman to head the program in 1970. The Eastman Dental Center was a fertile ground for post-doctoral general dentistry training by providing the intellectual stimulation for academic learning and research. The timing was right on a national level with an infusion of significant funds provided by the Federal Government for the development of advanced general dentistry education. Furthermore, there was an increasing demand for adult dental service in New York State with funds provided by Medicaid. To the present day, Medicaid is a major source of clinical income at the Eastman Dental Center.

There was no mechanism for accreditation of the General Dentistry program at Eastman because of the lack of hospital experience. To meet this requirement, the Eastman Dental Center and the Genesee Hospital jointly applied to the Council of Accreditation of the American Dental Association and were awarded provisional accreditation. At the site visit, accreditation was denied because all the Eastman residents did not participate in the hospital component of the program. The Eastman Dental Center and the University of Rochester petitioned the American Association of Dental Schools (AADS) to sponsor a resolution at the American Dental Association meeting for the accreditation of an alternate accreditation mechanism for General Dentistry. This finally was approved and in 1981 the Eastman Dental Center was the first academic institution to be accredited as an Advanced Education in General Dentistry (AEGD) program, and has served as a model for AEGD programs affiliated with dental schools worldwide.

William B. McHugh understood the increasing interest in postdoctoral general dentistry education by graduating dentists. The American Association of Dental Schools and the Federal Government supported the expansion of the numbers and types of programs. The Eastman Dental Center was awarded three educational grants to expand it’s AEGD program by the Health Resources and Service Administration of the Federal Government.

The General Practice Residency programs at Strong Memorial Hospital and the Genesee Hospital and the program at Eastman, formed an umbrella group that was called the Associated General Training Programs of Rochester (AGTPR), and developed cooperative programs in recruitment, didactic course work, clinical activities and securing educational grants and contracts. These institutions were awarded numerous federal educational grants to expand their respective GPR and AEGD program by the Health Resources and Service Administration.
At the same time, as the accreditation process moved forward, the AGTP of Rochester was awarded a contract to write a manual and conduct national workshops on developing post-doctoral general dentistry programs. Stanley Handelman was the project director. Both events served to establish Rochester as a leader in general dentistry education. Other educational grants and contracts by the federal government followed. There were publications on evaluation of post-doctoral general dentistry education, curriculum development, utilization of an education consultant, evaluation of the selection process, the uniqueness of the AGTPR application process, and career development subsequent to completion of post-doctoral general dentistry education. The reputation of the Eastman Dental Center general dentistry program was further enhanced by the establishment of the Section of Post-Doctoral General Dentistry of the AADS in 1987. Faculty from Eastman and the University of Rochester not only played a major role in its founding but have continued to play a leadership role as Chairs of the section and have included: Stanley Handelman, Cyril Meyerowitz, Hans Malmström, and Todd Theirer.

One of the uniquenesses of the AEGD program at Eastman is the number of high qualified foreign residents. This follows the tradition established by Basil Bibby, who himself was a transplanted New Zealander and is currently exemplified by Dr. Cyril Meyerowitz originally from South Africa, who is the current chair of the Eastman Department of Dentistry and Director of Eastman Dental Center. During Basil Bibby’s tenure there was a constant flow of foreign scientists on sabbatical and post-doctoral students which created a unique international and intellectual flavor. Post-doctoral students enrolled in the program include individuals from every continent around the world and have, in addition to cultural and social exchange during the program, forged lifelong transcontinental friendships. Since 1991, foreign graduates with a green card who complete the two-year AEGD program have the opportunity to take the New York State clinical boards as the curriculum equals or exceeds the advanced standing programs in predoctoral dental schools in New York State.

The History of Advanced Education in General Dentistry
The 2004-2005 AEGD Program

Another year has successfully been completed in the AEGD program. This year has been very special to the faculty, staff, and myself, as we have had an extraordinary group of talented residents with very unique personalities. We will always remember this group of residents with fondness.

As the AEGD Program director, I am very proud of our graduating residents, who have demonstrated strong, intellectual and clinical abilities to successfully complete the AEGD Program. It is a very demanding program because the didactic component has a prominent role in preparing the residents with proper scientific background in the rapidly changing world of oral health. In addition, four of our residents have successfully combed the AEGD Program with a Master of Science or a Master of Public Health degree program.

This year has been a very productive one scientifically, as we continued to involve our residents and students in research activities. Four faculty and residents presented their work at the IADR Conference in Baltimore this year, demonstrating the ongoing emphasis on research among our residents and faculty.

I am very pleased that one of our AEGD December graduates, Dr. Sangeeta Gajendra, was offered and accepted a full-time faculty member position in the Division of Community Dentistry at the Eastman Department of Dentistry. Dr. Gajendra completed a Master of Public Health degree at the University of Illinois prior to entering the AEGD Program. She is expected not only to contribute to the education program but also to the research efforts of the institution.

The continuing dental education course work is an integral part of the AEGD program. This year we had Drs. Gordon Christensen and Carl Misch as the speakers at the Handelman Conference, our alumni conference. This was the largest attendance we have had with almost 400 registered individuals each day. This event was co-sponsored by the local 7th District Dental Society, which made the event very special to the Rochester dental community. We are already discussing other events we can co-sponsor in the future.

The esthetic participation course was extended to nine days with probably the best line up of speakers ever. The speakers included: Byoung In-Suh and Drs. Nasser Barghi, Corky Willhite, Newton Fahl, Douglas Terry. The endodontic participation course was expanded to five days and in addition to Drs. William Nesbitt and Manuel Hoyo included Dr. Joseph Camp from North Carolina.

The future of the AEGD Program looks very promising. We have bright and energetic residents; very dedicated, scientifically and clinically skilled faculty; and a loyal and hardworking staff. One of our main program objectives is to educate future oral health educators, researchers, and leaders. To achieve this objective, we encourage our residents and students to pursue graduate programs. With strong support from
Dr. Cyril Meyerowitz, professor and chair of the Eastman Department of Dentistry and director of Eastman Dental Center, we have been successful in enrolling residents in both the MS and MPH degree programs. Presently, we have four AEGD residents in the combined Master track/AEGD Program. We continue to promote and recruit for these graduate programs to prospective residents applying to the AEGD Program.

All of our residents enrolled in the two-year program are required to complete a research project. Faculty members such as Dr. Yan-Fang Ren are very successful directing and mentoring clinical and basic scientific research projects as this area continues to play an important role in the AEGD educational program. We have also been successful in pursuing research grants and are presently completing research projects sponsored by several companies. These projects include: an 18-month evaluation of a dental adhesive; an herbal rinse effect on halitosis and gingivitis; a toothpaste’s effect on halitosis; and the clinical success of general dentists placing and restoring dental implants.

Over the past seven decades, our alumni have gone on to earn achievements in dental practice, scientific discovery, and teaching. We look forward to a lifelong relationship with all of you and hope to hear about your future achievements.

Finally, I congratulate all our graduates on your accomplishments and wish you the best success in your future.

Sincerely,

Our Fun Life & Work
Research Training Program in the AEGD Program

By Dr. Yanfang Ren

Emphasis on research has been a tradition of our AEGD program. Dr. Stanley Handelman, the founding director, and Dr. Hans Malmström, the present director of the program are both strong advocates of resident research training. Residents are always encouraged to participate in degree and non-degree training programs offered through the University of Rochester. We have made great efforts to facilitate resident research activities within and outside the AEGD program. Residents who have an interest in an academic career have opportunities to interact with experienced researchers in basic and clinical sciences in the Eastman Dental Center and the University of Rochester Medical Center before they decide on a focused area of their research career development. Several of our residents are currently enrolled in the Master of Public Health in Clinical Investigation program and are expected to receive their master degree in conjunction with an AEGD certificate.

Research activities within the AEGD program are rapidly expanding. Many of our residents are actively participating in a wide range of research activities in collaboration with various industrial and academic institutions. We have received funding for clinical trials and testing of dental materials, mouthwashes, dentifrices, tooth whiteners and dental implants. Several residents have worked as members of the research teams for these clinical studies. We anticipate further development of our research program in the coming years.

The following list provides an overview of the research programs initiated by our residents. We always welcome our alumni to take part in our research activities. You may provide ideas for future research projects, or may act as coinvestigator in projects of your interests.

Basil Bibby Research Fellowship Award

One of the AEGD residents, Dr. Ram Vaderhobli, received the prestigious Basil Bibby Research Fellowship Award.

Dr. Vaderhobli earned his dental degree in 1999 from R.V. Dental College in Banalore, India. He has been actively involved in dental research since then, specializing in dental composite cements as a research assistant at Alfred University, Alfred, New York. He received his Masters in Biomaterial Sciences from Alfred University in August 2003.

The Basil G. Bibby Fellowship Fund for Academic and Clinical Research in Dentistry was created to honor the academic and research accomplishments of Dr. Basil Bibby. His efforts set the stage for thousands of students and faculty, national and international, to establish and maintain productive and challenging careers as dentists, researchers, and teachers.

All that the Eastman Dental Center is and will become in future has been built on a solid foundation of sound oral health practices coupled with academic excellence and cutting-edge research. Basil Bibby has been, in large part, the architect of this unique enterprise. The traditions he established shall forever be a part of the academic, research, and teaching environment of this dental institution.
Continuing Dental Education

Continuing dental education has become an integral part of the education of the dental residents in the international post-doctoral program in general dentistry and the advanced education in general dentistry program. The residents have an opportunity to learn from national and international renowned clinicians and lecturers. The Esthetic Dentistry participation course was expanded this year to consist of five sessions, nine days for a total of 77 continuing dental education credit hours. We probably had the best line-up for this course with the speakers including: Drs. Nasser Barghi, Corky Willhite, Newton Fahl and Mr. Byoung In Suh (Bisco Dental) the opportunity for the residents to interact with these speakers in small groups and learn hands-on new techniques is probably one of the most wonderful learning experiences that you can have in both the post-doctoral international and AEGD programs. In April and May Drs. William Nesbitt and Manuel Hoyo and with this year's addition of Dr. Joe Camp offered a five session endodontic course titled: The Philosophy of Vertical Compaction of Warm Guttapercha and Use and Abuse of Two Types of NiTi Rotary Systems. This was the ninth year for this participation course.

The Eleventh Annual Handelman Conference was co-sponsored by the local dental society, 7th District. This was our first co-sponsored continuing dental education event. The featured speakers were Dr. Carl Misch explaining the wonders of dental implants (Thursday). Friday, Dr. Gordon Christiansen gave us all a comprehensive update about everything new in dentistry.

This was an extremely successful event with 300 attendees on Thursday and 400 on Friday. We do expect the same excitement in the upcoming year 2006.

Continuing Education Courses includes:

2005 Faculty Award

Every year we give out an award to one of our part-time faculty members in general dentistry. We are very fortunate to have so many excellent faculty members who are volunteering their time because of their genuine interest in education. I want on behalf of myself, the residents and staff to sincerely thank all of you for this valuable contribution to dental education. As many of you are aware that dental education in the US is having difficulty in recruiting faculty members, which demonstrates how fortunate we are in the AEGD program.

The criteria for the part-time award in general dentistry reads as follows:

_This award for excellence in Clinical Education is presented to a faculty member in the Advanced Education in the General Dentistry program, who demonstrates excellent communication skills; who spends a significant component of his/her time actively providing clinical education, demonstrates a genuine concern and interest for resident clinical education, are very knowledgeable and skilled in his/her area of expertise and is respected by residents, peers and staff._

The recipient for this year’s award is Dr. Michael Yunker.

Dr. Yunker was born in New York City (Washington Heights) according to a reliable source. He lived there for 18 months and moved to Parkersburgh, WV. He lived there through high school, involved in many activities but especially Boy Scouts, where he reached the level of Eagle Scout (he and I have had quite some conversations regarding this).

• He always has enjoyed camping, hiking, and orienteering.
• He ran track and is still and avid swimmer.
• He did sing in a choir in High School and played the trumpet and piano.
• He got married to Carol when he was in Dental School and they have two daughters, Mollie and Jessica.
• He completed his BS and DDS at Case Western Reserve University in 1972.
• He then completed and internship at Genesee Hospital, where he continued as a full time faculty member for a few years before he opened his private practice in Rochester in 1976. He sold his practice in 2004 and we were fortunate that he was willing to increase his teaching time here. Since last summer he has been teaching 3 days per week. Before that he was involved ½ day per week for more than 10 years.

What I think strikes everyone about Dr. Yunker is his very pleasant and humble personality. He is a very skilled dentist with a lot of integrity and with a personality that makes him very approachable to the residents.
2005 Faculty Award

The residents’ evaluations are commenting about his willingness and dedication to teaching.

With his private practice background, Dr. Yunker is not only able to teach clinical dentistry but also practice management. He is very helpful to myself and all the other clinical staff.

So it is with great pleasure, I will give the AEGD part-time award to Dr. Michael Yunker on behalf of all residents, staff and faculty in the AEGD program. I hope you will continue with us for many more years.

Congratulations!
2005 Eastman of Department of Dentistry Part-time Faculty Award for Excellence presented to

Dr. William Nesbitt

Each year, a part-time faculty award is voted on by the program directors and division chairs in all the programs. This year’s recipient was Dr. William Nesbitt, who has been our endodontic faculty member in the AEGD Program for 12 years.

Dr. Nesbitt completed his B.A. degree at the University of Rochester and received his DMD degree at Tufts University. He was a rotating intern in oral surgery at Strong Memorial Hospital and completed a post graduate endodontic program and residency at Boston University in 1992.

Dr. Nesbitt has been in the Division of Advanced Education in General Dentistry since 1992 as a specialist in endodontics. He brings a wealth of experience from private practice as an attending dentist at Rochester General Hospital and as a specialist in endodontics. For nine years, he has been the course director and lecturer for the continuing dental education course Vertical Compaction of Warm Gutta Percha: A Participation Course. This course has had a significant number of attendees from upstate New York in addition to our dental residents.

Dr. Nesbitt is a very unique individual fulfilling all the criteria we want to see in the recipient of the part-time faculty award. His loyalty to teaching, the residents, and the institution is admirable. He teaches every Thursday in General Dentistry and is very reliable.

Dr. Nesbitt has been rated very highly in periodic reviews by the residents in the Advanced Education in General Dentistry Program. This rating has been consistent over the years and has included all dimensions of activity. Some of the comments made by the residents included: explains things thoroughly, down to earth, super guy, very thoughtful, and always available to help if we need him.

Dr. Nesbitt is a role model for us all. He is dedicated to clinical and didactic teaching and has influenced several residents to pursue a specialty in endodontics.

All of the faculty, residents, and staff are very proud of Dr. Nesbitt and pleased that he was this year’s recipient of the part-time faculty award. We hope he will continue for many more years.

EIGHT DAYS A WEEK

Graduates of Eastman
Standing here today
We wrote this little jingle
To send you on your way

Dear friends    Good bye
Sure you feel    A lot of joy

Cause you had enough of Eastman eight days a week

Dentures everyday dear
Enough to make you cry
Medicaid prior approvals
Always get denied

Medicaid    Self-Pay
Crown & Bridge    No Way

My treatment plans are changing eight days a week

Eight days a week
In the Rotunda
Eight days a week
Is that enough to show I care?

Ooo I need an assistant
My dental chair is broke
The handpiece is running backwards
Please don’t make me float

Fill-ins    Second page
Evenings    Saturdays

We seem to work at Eastman eight days a week

Eight days a week
In the Rotunda
Eight days a week
Is that enough to show I care?

Patients taking paxil
Makes us want it too
Can you help out in emergency?
But don’t be late for lit review

Take it out    Save it
Vicodin        Addictions

Which tooth is causing your pain dear eight days a week

But it’s really great at Eastman
We know you feel it too
Oscar, Irina and Sangeeta
We’re really proud of you

We thank you
For all you’ve done
Won’t be the same
When you’re gone

We’re really gonna miss you eight days a week
    eight days a week
    eight days a week.
Our Fun Life & Work
Our Fun Life & Work
Our Fun Life & Work
The Dental Assistant

The following is from a book of Operative Dentistry written in 1936 and revised in 1950.

A dental assistant is one who has been trained to be a real helper in the dental office. She is the chairside assistant, the office accountant, the efficiency engineer, and a diplomat standing between the dentist and wasted time. Her natural qualifications comprise the following: A woman clean in person, mind, and character, having a pleasant disposition; of medium stature; keen to observe; quick to act; sympathetic, businesslike, responsible; old enough to have mature thoughts, and one capable of keeping information confidential. Her acquired qualifications are those received by definite instruction from dentists or other teachers who know the right knowledge to impart and know how to instruct. Some schools have a curriculum especially for the training of dental assistants, comprising subjects of a relative value, as well as those of a more direct application.

Duties. The duties of a dental assistant are varied and numerous. Punctuality is a requisite. The first to arrive at office, she should ventilate it thoroughly and see that a comfortable temperature is maintained throughout the day. She should keep everything “spic and span,” and meet all visitors in a cordial manner. She should assist elderly people and children. She should make all records as to name, address, telephone number, and other information as the dentist directs (such as the former dentist’s name, who referred the patient, the patient’s credit rating, etc.). She should allow only those entitled to consideration to reach the dentist, thereby conserving his time.

Her duties in the business office are those of an accountant: keeping a record of all operations, conditions of mouth and teeth, charges and credits, mailing statements at a proper time, and filing written records, roentgen rays, models, etc. The assistant should handle all calls on the telephone in a pleasant and judicious manner. In the operating office she should keep all objects and equipment in a clean and orderly condition, all operating instruments sterile. Chairside assistance is one of the larger fields of usefulness. Trained in the operative procedures, she should aid the dentist by preparing in advance trays or stands of instruments and materials laid out in order of use and then hand all instruments to the operator and receive all instruments from him at a mutual area of exchange, just in front of the patient’s chin.

In the laboratory, her duties should be to keep all instruments and equipment clean and in order, to see that stocks of material are fresh and in sufficient amounts, to develop and mount roentgen ray films, and to do as much of the laboratory work of dentistry as she may be capable of handling. In general, an indirect rule for including duties of an assistant is summed up in this statement: “The only duties of the dentist are those which the assistant cannot, or is not allowed, by law, to do.”

The article went on to list over 30 rules from a typical “Book of Procedures” with the first two rules governing the assistant’s appearance and general disposition:
1. Be immaculately neat and clean in person, gown, shoes, stockings, hands and face, hair, mind, and character.
2. Cultivate a pleasant disposition, but do not overdo graciousness.
Our dental Clinic is located at Monroe Community Hospital and provides dental care for adults with developmental disabilities in Rochester as well as in Monroe County. Over 800 people with developmental disabilities receive dental care with an average of 1200 dental visits per year. Our dental team assess oral health needs of adults with developmental disabilities, develop treatment plans, which are appropriate and rational, perform dental procedures, and work with other dental medical health care members to carry out treatment protocols for people with developmental disabilities. Our team members are George Ungerer DDS, A. Hakan Tuncer DDS, Andrea M. Pedersen RDH, Suzanne Koch L.C.D.A, and Lynda Pasco.

In the spring of 1985, the Jewish Home of Rochester moved to Winton Road in Brighton from St. Paul Street. The Home has approximately 360 residents who are served by the dental clinic.

Dr. Michael Mayer is director of the clinic, which is also staffed by a dental assistant, dental hygienist and an office manager. The Eastman Dental Center AEGD residents do a rotation at the clinic.
Faculty Reflections

By Dr. Mike Yunker

The lure of the golf course, vacation retreat, boat, and tennis court is still present and a powerful force, but for the faculty in General Dentistry, it must compete with the lure of the Rotunda, the Library, and the Concourse Room. What is the force that draws us to the Department? For some it is the desire to be an educator, the desire to help younger dentists, and the desire to help patients. For me, the mere mention of names such as Stan Handelman, Bejan Iranpour, Gerry Graser, and Dave Appelbaum serves as an inspiration for continued professional development and for conducting my life in such a way that the values instilled in me can be passed on to others.

So much can be gained by opening the mind to the skill, experience, and artistry of Tom DeRosa, the common sense and practicality of Charlie Oster, and the vast knowledge and boundless energy of Hans Malmstrom, just to name a few. This is a reservoir of information available to anyone with the desire to partake. The faculty members give of themselves not because they “have” to, but because they “want” to.

It is so satisfying to observe the triumphant moment that comes from a job well done. Also satisfying is the knowledge gained from previous failures. The learning experience is what is important, and the faculty in General Dentistry is dedicated to enhancing that experience.

It is probably true that the faculty gets more out of the experience than they put into it. The opportunity to work with eager residents with fresh ideas is vitally important for continued professional development. We are exposed to patients with problems and needs that we would rarely see in the office, and we can observe the functioning of an organization larger than the one with which we are most familiar. Every day is another learning experience. On some occasions we learn what to do. Other occasions teach us what to avoid, but the experience is always positive.

Hopefully I speak for the entire faculty when I say that at some point in the future, we hope that every resident will feel the need to share themselves, their values, and their experiences with the next generation. This is the future of dentistry.

Faculty Message to Graduates

By Dr. Gene Surasky

TO THE CLASS OF 2005

This really has been a remarkable class but my sense of propriety prevents me from repeating those remarks. Yes graduation is indeed a truly wonderful time – everyone moving on to new things. I hope it’s wonderful for you, too. I have just a few remarks that I hope will help you on your way to fame and fortune.

1. My first bit of advice is don’t get pregnant unless you’re female. I know someone who confused her valium with her birth control pills. She has 14 kids but doesn’t really care. We did have one birth from this class – a cute little Carlson. All the faculty got together to choose a name we could suggest for the baby and we decided that because in her last month it looked so much like a basketball, we would call him Spalding.

2. So many of you are now married or planning to marry I thought that from my 46 years of marriage I could share some thoughts with you that might help smooth over some of the rough spots in any relationship.

3. Never go to bed mad. Stay up all night and fight it out. The first to fall asleep loses.

4. Be affectionate. When I was dating my wife she complained that I wasn’t affectionate enough. So I had to get an additional girl friend.

5. During the past year, one of the residents introduced me to his fiancée. He later asked me what I thought of her. I told him I thought she was a really lovely person who deserved a good husband and that he should marry her before she finds one.

6. Honesty is the key to a good relationship. If you can fake that, you’re in.

7. And most important, make sure that as soon as possible you each have your own car. I don’t know about you but my wife and I have entirely different driving habits. I was discussing this with a friend and I mentioned that my wife drives like lightning. He said, you mean she drives too fast. I said, no, she hits trees. She called me up once from our cottage in Canandaigua and said she was having trouble with her car and could I pick her up. I said of course but what seems to be the problem with the car. She said there was water in the carburetor. I said OK where’s the car now? She said, it’s in the lake.

8. And in conclusion, a couple of thoughts to ponder:
   a. Hard work never killed anybody – but why take the chance?
   b. Everywhere is walking distance if you have enough time.
   c. Leave enough time in your life for recreation – play sports, read books, go to the movies. Speaking of movies, I don’t know how you all feel about it but personally I don’t like sex in the movies. The seats keep folding up on me.

You’ve been a great class and it’s been a pleasure working with you all. And my final bit of advice that I tell all graduating classes, do good work, have a good time and try not to kill anybody.

Dr. Gene Surasky
I thought it might be appropriate to begin with a reference to a former President of these United States and it was with interest that I read that an anonymous observer once said of Calvin Coolidge that he didn’t say much, but when he did, he didn’t say much! I’ll try to avoid that kind of review as I attempt to sum up two years in a short space of time. To maintain the sentiment rather than the emotion of such a nostalgic day, I thought I might share a letter with you to the late Mr. George Eastman!

Dear Mr. Eastman,

I know we’ve never met and I’m going home to Ireland, so it’s probably going to stay that way! But I’m leaving richer than I came - not necessarily anything to do with a General Dentistry stipend, but definitely richer as a dentist and as an individual. I came to the U.S. as a very privileged young man: a life of having, thanks to a wonderful set of parents and a full family life, and to them, I am indebted. My parents would have loved to have been here today, but hopefully the Eastman Kodak moments will help them to appreciate it!

This was perhaps the first time that I really branched out on my own and that branch has led me across the Atlantic and into your family tree. The blossoming, leafy Eastman tree that is like a microcosm of America: people from all over the world eagerly gathering the windfall from the tree. And so my privilege has continued - a wonderful two years of continued learning, helping me to mature as a dentist, two years of “The American Experience” and two years of very cold winters!! I have met such brilliant people and forged close friendships in my two years; and that was just with the emergency patients!!

I have many people to thank, Mr. Eastman. People that I owe so much to, for many different reasons and I really shouldn’t single out individuals.

I have been lucky enough to work with your selfless faculty for two years: people who give so much time and energy in the noble pursuit of educating others. I hope that I might get the opportunity to impart some of that knowledge to others when I get back home - imitation would certainly be the highest form of flattery I could pay to my faculty at Eastman.

I have also been lucky enough to have so many brilliant fellow residents. I remember one of my prosthodontics faculty at Trinity College Dublin had recently returned from the program at the University of Iowa and he told me of the diversity of his fellow residents and that is very striking to someone raised in a country with no history of immigration. And so now, I too have been exposed to many different cultures and creeds and that too has been a real growing experience. I have learnt of people escaping from their homelands through desert and of people being here under the toughest of circumstances, and that makes me even more appreciative of everything I have. So to all of the residents I have been honored to have shared my time with, I am very grateful.

My good fortune, however, Mr. Eastman, has not ended there. If ever I was to read this letter to all the assistants that I have been lucky enough to work with, I know that more than one would count their blessings that I was neither whistling, singing nor humming!! For I have done more than my fair share of music-making in two years and a refrain, chorus or unintelligible improvisation has rarely been too far away from any impression, filling or extraction!!! I know that many of those assistants (ok, all of those assistants!) would agree that it is lucky that music will never be my source of income! But I have learnt much from those two years with your family of assistants to help in the search for some poor unsuspecting assistant when I get back to Ireland - and deafness will definitely help her greatly!

If it’s possible to leave with a heavy heart, Mr. Eastman, then I will leave the Department of General Dentistry with one of those. From Johnson Controls to our front desk and from the lab to the administration, I am taking fond memories with me. I am grateful to you, Mr. Eastman, for having bad teeth and leaving behind you an institution that is great in both name and deed. I look forward to returning to Eastman Dental Center often and maintaining a strong link always.

Yours sincerely,

Adrian Loomes.
