

Figure 3. Fluorescence adaptive optics image of the mosaic of retinal pigment epithelium (RPE) cells in the central primate retina. This image is made through photoreceptors, which are transparent to the fluorescent light.