Advanced Trauma Life Support
2013 Series

ATLS®
2013 Advanced Trauma Life Support Series

Traumatic injury remains a major cause of death and disability in all age groups. It is clear that prompt recognition of life-threatening injury and appropriate early management can significantly improve outcomes following trauma.

The Advanced Trauma Life Support (ATLS®) Course provides a structure in which the participant will learn to identify injuries associated with major trauma as well as the management skills required for proper early resuscitation and treatment of injured patients.

As a national standard in trauma education, the ATLS® course provides participants with the basic skills required for timely management of traumatic injury. The course format involves both didactic and practical sessions with all skills taught using state-of-the-art human simulators (Trauma-Man®).

This course remains a basic requirement for all physicians who have responsibility for the management of injured patients.
