THE DESCRIPTIONS FOR THE RANK OF PROFESSOR REFER TO THE DESCRIPTIONS FOR ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR; THEREFORE, THE DESCRIPTIONS OF BOTH RANKS ARE INCLUDED HERE.

SCHOLARSHIP

Scholarship — Associate Professor

Demonstrable success in developing and sustaining a distinct identity as a scholar with an area of focused expertise, as evidenced by:

- Publications
  - May include any of the following
    - Peer-reviewed journals (at least some publications must be in this category)
    - Review papers
    - Book chapters, monographs, or books
    - Other written professional communications
    - Written communications to non-professional audiences (if relevant to area of expertise)
  - Quality as a primary determinant
    - Demonstrable impact in advancing the field
      - Originality
      - Significance
      - Influence on subsequent work by others
  - Number of publications may vary, as the number and timing of publications are of importance primarily as evidence of sustained research productivity
  - Authorship demonstrating stewardship of at least some of the intellectual content
    - First or senior author
    - Co-authorship of papers first-authored by mentees
- Other scholarly products
  - Examples may include
    - Course syllabi
    - Teaching manuals or other teaching materials
    - Policies, procedures, or other administrative materials
    - Audio, video, software, or other media projects
    - Patents or inventions (including evidence for impacting the field, e.g., licensing by others)
  - Evidence that these products are scholarly may include either of the following
    - Fulfills the 3 ‘Ps’
      - A clear Product that can be reproduced and built upon
      - Is open to Peer review
      - Is disseminated Publicly
    - Fulfills Glassick criteria
      - Clear goals
      - Adequate preparation
      - Appropriate methods
      - Significant results
      - Effective presentation
      - Reflective critique
- Funding
  - Competitive funding to support scholarship is not required
  - However, for some types of scholarship, evidence of grant funding as PI or in other roles may be Necessary or helpful to enable the work’s success
Evidence toward fulfilling the criteria for scholarship above

Scholarship — Professor

Continued and sustained excellence as a scholar, with evidence for any of the following:

- Broader scope, in content area or in multidisciplinary collaborations
- Greater originality or innovation
- Greater impact on the field
  - Necessarily should include a publication record consistent with greater level of distinction and preeminence as a scholar